

An Address to the People of Tennessee.

The National Republicans of the State of Tennessee assembled to take that part in the public affairs of the State which becomes the free citizens of a free republic, to promote its prosperity and happiness, to maintain its free institutions, to make sure the blessings of practical freedom to every individual citizen, and especially, to encourage and secure free thought, free speech, and a free press—make and submit this declaration and address to the good people of the State of Tennessee.

1st. The Constitution of the United States of America, as made and amended by our forefathers, and the amendments known as the 13th, 14th and 15th, recognizing and securing freedom and equal rights to all American citizens of every race, their inalienable rights under the laws of nature and nature's God, making the Declaration of Independence a living, practical truth, is the supreme law of the land, anything in the State Constitution to the contrary, notwithstanding. And the American people constitute a nation with one common National Government, with one flag waving in peace and power over all the States and Territories of the United States, inspiring all patriotic hearts at home, honored and respected among all the powers and nations of the earth, feared and hated only by despots and their upholders—the mildest, strongest and most stable Government the sun shines down upon, because the freest.

2d. The State of Tennessee from its first admission into the Union, under the administration of Washington, was ever in all the past, faithful in devotion to the nation, when, in 1861, in an evil hour, against the deliberate will and judgment of her people, as solemnly recorded, in favor of adherence to the Union, the Democratic party, then dominant, forced her into the gulf of rebellion by fraud, violence and usurpation of the power of the people of the State. She was restored and readmitted into the Union with all her original rights, upon perfect equality with the other States, and we congratulate the people of Tennessee that they are restored to all the rights of American citizens, and are again under the holy keeping of the "old flag," free and independent by the grace of God and the American people.

3d. We recognize the ability and necessity of two political parties extending throughout the whole United States, properly organized and conducted with good sense and good temper, respecting each other's rights. They are checks and guards on each other against the abuse of political power. They bring into discussion before the people both sides of all questions which underlie their institutions and welfare, and preserve the spirit of liberty, and we would not, if we had the power, annihilate our adversary, the Democratic party, (as itself, but with the real Democratic element left out) but would, and do appeal to the free people of Tennessee whose instincts and institutions are always right, and in which we have faith and confidence, that this party is unworthy the confidence of the generous people of Tennessee, in view of its betrayal of their interest, its misdeeds and mad abuse of political power of which furnish a few examples:

First: The leaders of this party refused to submit to the will of the American people in the Presidential election of November, 1860. It had held power so long, that when the American people, in the exercise of Constitutional rights, and according to its judgment, elected that plain and honest man, Abraham Lincoln, to the Presidency, filled with pride and wrath and disappointed ambition, the leaders raised "impious war," to pull down the government itself. Also, this Democratic party, in the madness of their hearts, invoked the aid of the "British Lion" and the "Eagles of France," to assist in pulling down the American Temple of Liberty. England—proud, haughty, insolent England, was invoked, and this party was willing to take a protectorate under the English Lion or the French Eagles, one or both.

Second: In Tennessee itself, the home of the last patriotic, Democratic President, Andrew Jackson, who declared that "the Federal Union must and shall be preserved," the leaders of this party, in their pride and infatuation and blindness; in defiance of the will of the people of Tennessee, solemnly expressed at a free election in February, 1861, forced the State of Tennessee into rebellion against its own National government, in the face of a majority of 64,000, and the election of ninety out of one hundred delegates, and the rejection of the Convention itself, as being the means of secession, covered up and veiled.

Third: Its creature, the Legislature, was called in April, 1861, and made to usurp powers which were forbidden by our own State Constitution—were made to seize upon the public Treasury—upon the bank of the State of Tennessee, with its capital of $5,000,000, to form a league, (as it was called,) with the so-called Confederacy, which league was a bill of sale of the people of Tennessee to an organized conspiracy. Troops were raised; fifty-five thousand called for. Tennessee was the battle field; all of her industries destroyed; her fields laid waste; her citizens, the plain men and ingenious youth, were victimized, and their blood to-day cries to Heaven against the wrongs received at the hands of this party, or their leaders, who bargained their blood and treasure for honors (?) and office.

Fourth: In 1865, when President Lincoln called on the people of Tennessee to aid in restoring Tennessee to Republican government, which had been overthrown, and a Legislature had assembled and were engaged in restoring Tennessee; the General Assembly was denounced as illegal and unconstitutional and all of its acts void, and a scheme set on foot to break up its proceedings. Its work was suspended for want of a quorum, until the people filled up the seats of vacant and seditious members and came to the support of law and order.

This species of warfare upon the government of Tennessee was kept up for three or four years, and the State kept in disorder and disquiet, to the great detriment of the public interest.

Fifth: The Amendment to the Constitution, known as the Fourteenth Amendment, was adopted as a settlement and adjustment of one of the most exciting and disturbing questions, which grew out of a war precipitated upon the people by the States Rights Democracy, and this party in Tennessee are acting in open violation and defiance of its provisions. It has, with what seems to be a studied, settled purpose to defy the authority of the National Government, turned out of office every Republican holding office in Tennessee and elected men to office who are under disabilities imposed by the Constitution. This course must lead to an interference on the part of the government, to see that the Constitution is obeyed and the laws enforced. And we solemnly remind those who are inclined to endorse this policy, that the Democracy and those who adhere to and vote with this revolutionary party, will be responsible for the results of the insane course pursued by those who would injure our material interests and postpone an era of prosperity in the State.

In the light of their crimes and offenses are the leaders of this party, or the party itself, worthy of the confidence of a free and generous people? Does not prudence prescribe its exclusion from the custody of State affairs? Will it not be time to clothe them with the control and the safe-keeping of the political powers of the State when they shall have shown a sense of the great wrongs done to the people by their hands?

The National Republican party, we are free to declare, has our full faith and confidence. It was born from the "Old Line Whigs," party, called into existence to resist the aggression of the Democratic party. Its creed was that of the Henry Clay school of Whigs, and is in the main the same to-day. Its central idea was, and is love, admiration and reverence for the Union of the people of all the States. Its motto that uttered by Daniel Webster, and echoed and re-echoed by every heart in Tennessee—"Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable." It was, and is now, also composed of the Jackson Democrats who preferred country to party, and in the hour of its peril put themselves under the "star spangled banner." This party, inspired by love, Union and liberty, under a wise Providence, saved the Republic from secession, disruption, and from a great organized despotism—in fact, saved to us and to our posterity, our free Government, and the institutions founded by Washington and his co-workers. As early as practicable it reconstructed the State, in which Republican government was overthrown, and readmitted them into the Union of the States upon an entire equality.

This Republican party created a National currency, which circulates through all the States, known as greenbacks. It has kept the public faith sacredly, and would pay off the public debt to the last farthing as an honest, sensible Government will pay its every debt.

The Republican party has reduced taxation, economized the collection of the revenue, and paid off since General Grant came into office $170,000,000 of the public debt.

It has opened the great Pacific Railroad across the Continent. It holds England responsible for the destruction of our vessels of commerce, and will ultimately, by means of its moral power, obtain full compensation.

It has obtained the Monroe Doctrine, and such was its moral power that Napoleon III., who sought to take advantage of the great civil war and plant an Empire in Mexico, was compelled to withdraw, and leave Mexico to the government of her own people.

We endorse and approve the Administration of President Grant, and have full faith in his integrity, and justice, and practical statesmanship. He is a man of few words, but great deeds—a common-sense man, and we believe he has at heart kindness for the people of the South, and really wishes peace in all the land and an era of good feeling.

In conclusion, we beg and invoke our brothers, the Whigs of the Clay school—the plain, honest men of the country—to be with us in this conflict. And we pray and invoke all of the real Jackson school of Democrats to cut themselves loose from the States' Rights Secession Democracy, and join the ranks of their friends, the National Republicans, and overthrow and rout this Catholic Democracy in the open field of political warfare, as in the olden times we have often done, and rarely failed to do in Tennessee.

"IT HAS THE BEST FERTILIZING ATTACHMENT IN USE,"

And which for years has held the first position in all localities where manure, bone dust, lime and super-phosphate are used. Sows all these fine fertilizers, as well as ashes, plaster, and salt perfectly. Whether it be dry or damp, it puts the fertilizer used in the drills with the grain, thus giving it the entire and immediate benefit of the fertilizer used. By a recent improvement, we put this under the immediate control of the operator, enabling him to use his fertilizer on the barren portions of his field, and husband it upon the fertile parts.

The GRANO ATTACHMENT must be ordered with the Drill, as it cannot afterwards be attached.

Metal or Rubber Grain Funnel, as desired. Double Reversible Steel Points on Tubes. Broad Faced Wheels and Wrought Iron Axles.

"Acknowledging in the decline of prices of farm produce, and the closeness of financial matters among our patrons, the justice of their claim for a corresponding reduction in the price of farm implements, we have determined to reduce the price of Grain Drills to the old standard of 1869.

Confident a discriminating public will appreciate our effort, and avail themselves of this "golden opportunity" to secure one of these most useful labor-saving implements at old prices, while labor still ranges at a war standard we have established the following prices for Drills, delivered on board boat or cars at Baltimore:

It does not act as an astringent alone, but by reducing the acidity of the secretory membranes of the bowels, reduces the inflammation, hence procures a thorough cure.

The proprietors take the liberty of stating to the public, that no more perfect receipt which is guaranteed the cure of the above mentioned diseases exists in the world, being entirely vegetable and containing no sugar, lead or other noxious drug or mineral. And they would further say that the preparation has met the hearty approval of numerous physicians who have used it.

DIRECTIONS:

To adults, a tablespoonful after each passage, or four times a day. To children under ten, a half-tablespoonful as required. To children under five, a teaspoonful. To children under two or three, a half-teaspoonful, as required, and by carefully administering as directed it will never fail.
